

Edit the account name

Version 1: 01.12.2023

The account holder, especially if the holder of multiple accounts, may need to differentiate one account from another so as to spot it easily not only based on the different account IDs.

The name that is assigned to an account also helps to identify it among the accounts that are part of another account holder's trusted list.

The account holder is free to change the account name at any time, without limitations, and no approval is necessary.

Follow the instructions in the table to edit the account name
